Report on “Social Media Engagements.”

Topic: “Wednesday WIE”

Date: 10th June 2020

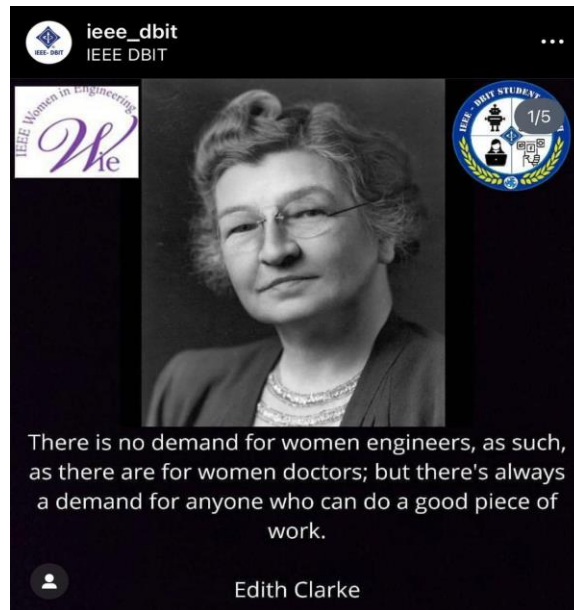

Venue: IEEE DBIT Instagram(Online Platform)

Description:

- In the newly introduced segment #tankyouwie dedicated to women in engineering, we aim to showcase the remarkable contributions of pioneering engineers from history.
- By spotlighting their achievements, we hope to inspire and empower young engineers, as well as those aspiring to enter the field.
- These trailblazing women serve as role models, demonstrating the immense impact that engineering can have on society and the potential for groundbreaking innovation.
- Their stories not only highlight their individual accomplishments but also underscore the importance of diversity and inclusion in the engineering profession.
- Through this segment, we seek to celebrate the legacies of these influential figures and encourage the next generation of engineers to pursue their passions and make a lasting impact in the field.
